1. Qualitative Information on Consolidated Performance for the Period under Review

(1) Explanation of Results of Operations

In the energy industry, dependence on thermal power generation as an alternative for nuclear power generation is rising, leading to an increased demand for LNG, the fuel used in thermal power generation. Shale gas produced in the U.S. will be imported from 2017, whose abundant reserves have been identified in many areas, and expectations toward the import of low-priced unconventional LNG is rising. As a result, the importance of gaseous energy as a key energy source for the future has come into the spotlight.

Meanwhile, in the electricity industry, complete liberalization of retail sale of electricity is scheduled to come into effect in 2016, and it is thought that similar relaxation of regulations will spread to the gas industry in the future. Operators from other business fields are expected to newly enter the electricity and gas businesses, and competition is predicted to intensify beyond the borders of the industry.

In keeping with such circumstances, the Group is actively investing in the energy retail field both in Japan and overseas in anticipation of the future. In addition, to gain the support of customers as well as to build a more robust security system, the Group will continue with active restructuring and investing toward a more efficient management.

With regards to Kumonouchusen, a new operational system linking cloud technology and mobile devices, the verification test carried out by the Company for distribution is in its final stage. Nationwide distribution of this system through Kumonouchusen Co., Ltd., which was jointly established with KDDI CORPORATION and Hitachi Capital Corporation, is scheduled to commence after the verification test is finished.

As for the development of overseas businesses, the electricity retailer Entrust Energy, Inc. affiliated with the U.S. holding company Strategic Power Holdings LLC, in which the Group is involved in its management, is steadily increasing its number of customers, and the number of customers as of September 30, 2013 reached 45,000 households.

In Australia, the Group sold all stocks of the electricity retailer Australian Power and Gas Company Limited, in which the Group has been involved in its management, to a major Australian electric power company, AGL Energy Limited, by accepting a takeover bid proposal. Meanwhile, the Group is newly involved in an electric energy management service company for commercial and industrial customers, COzero Holdings Limited, in terms of capital and management.

While applying the knowledge and expertise acquired from overseas investments in the U.S. and Australia, where liberalization of retail sale of energy is advancing, to the strategies for the planned liberalization of retail sale of energy in Japan, the Group will invest its business expertise and funds to overseas, and will continue expanding its customer base with a view to enhancing its earnings base for the future.

Based on the capital and business alliance agreement with One Equity Partners (OEP), which is the investment arm of international financial institution JP Morgan, the Group holds strategic investment committee meetings with OEP on a regular basis to discuss joint investment overseas. The Group plans to continue making active investment in the energy retail field.

For the period under review, consolidated net sales increased by 3.5% year-on-year to ¥53,565 million due to higher sales prices resulting from factors including the gas rate adjustment system, despite a slight year-on-year decrease in gas sales volume due to the impact of the high atmospheric and water temperatures during the period under review compared with the same period of the previous fiscal year. The number of customers of the Group steadily increased by 18,000 households compared with the end of the previous fiscal year to 1,047,000 households as of September 30, 2013.

In terms of profit, despite higher raw material prices compared with the same period of the previous fiscal year and an increase in cost of sales, operating income increased by 6.7% year-on-year to ¥2,601 million and ordinary income increased by 14.7% year-on-year to ¥2,582 million, thanks to a reduction of overall costs resulting from a sweeping reform across all businesses through the deployment of the new logistics/operational systems. On top of these, due to factors including posting of gain on bargain purchase resulting from additional acquisition of shares of a consolidated subsidiary, net income increased by 81.0% year-on-year to ¥2,086 million.

Sales and profits tend to rise disproportionately in the second half of the year, as the gas business, which by nature is characterized by sharp seasonal fluctuations, accounts for a major part of the Group's business.

Business performance by segment for the six months ended September 30, 2013 is as follows:

[LP Gas Business]

In the LP gas business, despite a slight year-on-year decrease in gas sales volume due to the impact of high atmospheric and water temperatures, sales prices moved higher compared with the same period of the previous fiscal year when sales prices were lowered due to a reduction in material costs. Consequently, net sales for the six months ended September 30, 2013 increased by ¥719 million (2.4% increase) year-on-year to ¥31,112 million.

[City Gas Business]

In the city gas business, although consumer gas sales volume decreased year-on-year due to the impact of atmospheric and water temperatures, sales prices moved higher compared with the same period of the previous fiscal year due to the gas rate adjustment system, in addition to an increase in commercial gas sales volume due to an increased demand for air-conditioning. Consequently, net sales for the six months ended September 30, 2013 increased by ¥1,110 million (5.2% increase) year-on-year to ¥22,452 million.

(2) Explanation of Financial Position

1) Assets

Total assets as of the end of the second quarter of the fiscal year ending March 31, 2014 decreased by ¥7,644 million from the end of the previous fiscal year and stood at ¥117,314 million. This is mainly because of the decrease in cash and deposits and notes and accounts receivable-trade due to seasonal factors, and the decrease in investments and other assets resulting from sales of subsidiaries and affiliates' stocks.

2) Liabilities

Total liabilities as of the end of the second quarter of the fiscal year ending March 31, 2014 increased by ¥2,431 million from the end of the previous fiscal year and stood at ¥74,374 million. This is mainly a reflection of the decrease in notes and accounts payable-trade due to seasonal factors and the increase in short-term loans payable.

3) Net assets

Net assets as of the end of the second quarter of the fiscal year ending March 31, 2014 decreased by ¥10,076 million from the end of the previous fiscal year and stood at ¥42,939 million. This is mainly a reflection of the increase in retained earnings due to net income recorded for the period under review and the increase in treasury stock (decrease in shareholders' equity).

As a result, equity ratio decreased by 5.2 percentage points from the end of the previous fiscal year to 27.0%.

(3) Explanation of Consolidated Forecast Results and Other Forward-looking Information

In the fiscal year ending March 31, 2014, the Group will continue to focus on increasing gas sales volume through the expansion of its customer base and on the spread and the expansion of the use of gas appliances. As a result, the Company projects consolidated net sales of ¥124,000 million or 5.9% increase year-on-year.

In terms of profits, despite expected increase in expenses associated with the customer base expansion and amortization of goodwill, the Group projects operating income of ¥9,000 million (14.1% increase), ordinary income of ¥8,800 million (7.5% increase), and net income of ¥4,000 million (6.0% increase), as a result of the increase in customers and other factors.

Note that no changes have been made to the earnings forecasts released on April 30, 2013.

4. Supplementary Information

(1) Production, Order and Sales Status

The Group is mainly engaged in sales and consequently does not indicate amounts and volumes representing its production and orders received for each reportable segment. In terms of the net sales and profits of the Group, the gas business, which by nature is characterized by sharp seasonal fluctuations, accounts for a major part of the Group's business. Therefore, sales and profits tend to rise disproportionately in the second half of the year.
